

PLAN MRS. BRADLEY'S DEFENSE ON LINES OF EMOTIONAL INSANITY

Continued from Page 1.

at the present time, or will be in the immediate future, Mrs. Bradley's case will go direct to that tribunal. An indictment for attempt to murder probably will be returned against her in case Senator Brown lives, and an indictment charging her with murder in the first degree if the senator succumbs to his wounds.

If the grand jury is not to meet for some time Mrs. Bradley will probably be taken before a committing magistrate in Washington and allowed to plead on the charge against her.

Judge Leckie Retained.
Judge A. E. Leckie, of the law firm of Leckie, Fulton & Cox of Washington, will represent Mrs. Bradley at the capitol. Judge Leckie has wired Bartch & Bagley here to have conferred with the prisoner and that she has authorized him to ask her Salt Lake relatives to come to her aid in the matter of furnishing money for bail bonds.

Immediately upon hearing that Mrs. Bradley was breaking down, Sunday morning at 4 o'clock Bartch & Bagley called up Dr. Hoover of the Idaho insane asylum at Blackfoot and retained him as their insanity expert. Dr. Hoover was a resident of Washington for thirty years. The desperate act of Mrs. Bradley is the one topic of conversation on the streets, in the homes of friends of the two principals, and at the clubs about town, where the senator was well known.

Investigating Property.
Throughout Sunday The Herald was besieged with telephone queries as to the condition of the woman mad. While Senator Brown's life hangs in the balance, the local attorneys employed by Mrs. Bradley's friends are investigating the amount of property owned by him and are looking up the standing of the children of Mrs. Bradley and the senator with reference to their right to inherit the estate of the latter in the event of his death. Judge Bartch and Mr. Bagley refused to state how far they have carried this investigation.

H. C. Ayes, a nephew of Senator Brown's second wife, Clarence Brown, last night received a message from M. S. Gunn of Helena, who was associated with Senator Brown in the trial of the case for which he went to Washington, stating that while there is no immediate danger Senator Brown's condition is very critical.

DRINK, GAMBLING AND FINALLY PRISON CELL CLAIM YOUNG HUSBAND

(Special to The Herald.)

Reno, Nov. Dec. 9.—Clarence A. Bradley, divorced husband of Anna M. Bradley, was sent to the state penitentiary from Reno for embezzlement about three years ago. Bradley served a year and a half and was pardoned. He has since disappeared and nothing more has been heard of him in this state.

Bradley came to Reno about four years ago and obtained employment as a bookkeeper for the J. R. Bradley company, the largest wholesale and retail hardware firm in the state. He began to gamble and rapidly went from bad to worse. He embezzled money from the hardware firm to cover up his gambling losses, and a warrant was sworn out for his arrest, but the case never came to trial, as his friends squared the account. He was affiliated with the local order of Odd Fellows and was popular in Reno.

Convicted and Sentenced.
Bradley left Reno and went to work as a bookkeeper for Colonel Hopkins at Steamboat Springs, where it was proposed to open a second Pluto place. Shortly afterward he secured the position of head bookkeeper for the Nevada California & Oregon Railway company in this city. Soon after he returned to Reno, he became possessed of a pathological spirit. This time he lost heavily and embezzled several thousand dollars to meet his losses on the green table. His theft was discovered by the railway officials, and this time he was arrested and tried for embezzlement.

Bradley was convicted. Before he was sentenced he sent for W. H. A. Pike, district judge-elect of the Second judicial district of this state, who was then prosecuting attorney, and told him a pathetic story. Bradley said that he and his wife had lived happily until they moved to Salt Lake City, where Mrs. Bradley met Senator Brown. He said that they had a seven-year-old boy, and that Mrs. Bradley had tried to steal the child when she left him for Senator Brown, and that he had sent the boy east to his own parents, where he was contributing for his support. Amid tears Bradley showed Judge Pike letters from his wife telling him that she did not love him any more and that she was going to live with Senator Brown.

A Model Prisoner.
Judge Pike was moved by the man's story of his downfall, and when Bradley came up for sentence, made an eloquent plea for him, and sentenced him to the penitentiary for two years in the state penitentiary at Carson. After he was taken to jail he made an exemplary prisoner. He helped the prison officials in keeping the records of the penitentiary, and within a few months after he was taken to the penitentiary he was a trusty. For a year and a half he did penance for his theft, and then Warden Considine and Judge Pike, who knew the reason for Bradley's downfall, appeared before the state board of pardons with a request for his release. He was pardoned and immediately afterward disappeared. Nothing has been heard from him since.

Thirteen years ago in Salt Lake City, Clarence A. Bradley was happily wedded to Anna Maddison. He was a young man of more than ordinary ability and held a position of trust with the Rio Grande Western railway. Apparently a bright future was before him. Mrs. Bradley was a talented and accomplished young woman. They seemed particularly well matched.

Two children were born to the couple and there was nothing to mar the match until after the young wife was introduced to Senator Arthur Brown by the father's wife. Slowly but surely the fascination for the public man superseded the love which belonged to her husband. Gradually the pair became alienated.

Seeks Solace in Drink.
Young Bradley still loved his wife despite her infidelity, and the thought that her affections were no longer his nearly destroyed his reason. He sought solace in drink. Toward the last he often occupied a drunken car on the station platform. Finally he left Salt Lake and went to Nevada.

The legal separation of the once happy couple did not occur until last February, when Mrs. Bradley asked for a divorce that she might become the wife of the man who had wronged her. She charged her convict husband with desertion, and he set up his defense.

Friends in Salt Lake are now ignorant of his whereabouts.

HAS SUFFERED ENOUGH.
Arthur Brown's First Wife Seeks to Avoid Notoriety.

(Special to The Herald.)
Columbus, O., Dec. 9.—"I am the divorced wife of Senator Brown, who was shot in Washington yesterday," said Mrs. L. C. Brown, who lives at 1224 Fair avenue, this evening. "I cannot tell you a falsehood, though we had hoped to escape being brought into notoriety by this tragedy, and I beg of you to ignore it."

"My daughter and I have suffered enough because of this. It is true that Senator Brown's wife died a few years ago, but she was his second wife. I was his first wife, and my daughter is his daughter."

When she was asked if she had been ordered out of the White House and was questioned at Oyster Bay by secret service agents, she replied: "No, that is not so. I never was arrested. I was not even there. As to my being in Washington at the time of the Roosevelt-Longworth wedding, that is also false."

At the present time, or will be in the immediate future, Mrs. Bradley's case will go direct to that tribunal. An indictment for attempt to murder probably will be returned against her in case Senator Brown lives, and an indictment charging her with murder in the first degree if the senator succumbs to his wounds.

If the grand jury is not to meet for some time Mrs. Bradley will probably be taken before a committing magistrate in Washington and allowed to plead on the charge against her.

Immediately upon hearing that Mrs. Bradley was breaking down, Sunday morning at 4 o'clock Bartch & Bagley called up Dr. Hoover of the Idaho insane asylum at Blackfoot and retained him as their insanity expert. Dr. Hoover was a resident of Washington for thirty years. The desperate act of Mrs. Bradley is the one topic of conversation on the streets, in the homes of friends of the two principals, and at the clubs about town, where the senator was well known.

Throughout Sunday The Herald was besieged with telephone queries as to the condition of the woman mad. While Senator Brown's life hangs in the balance, the local attorneys employed by Mrs. Bradley's friends are investigating the amount of property owned by him and are looking up the standing of the children of Mrs. Bradley and the senator with reference to their right to inherit the estate of the latter in the event of his death. Judge Bartch and Mr. Bagley refused to state how far they have carried this investigation.

H. C. Ayes, a nephew of Senator Brown's second wife, Clarence Brown, last night received a message from M. S. Gunn of Helena, who was associated with Senator Brown in the trial of the case for which he went to Washington, stating that while there is no immediate danger Senator Brown's condition is very critical.

There is some doubt as to the identity of the woman, who for a month past has occupied an apartment on Lexington avenue. The police believe her to be the "Mrs. Grover" who just prior to the Roosevelt-Longworth wedding was asked to leave the White House, and who later attempted to see the president at Oyster Bay.

A physician who was summoned was making a hasty examination when the woman recovered her senses and said: "Let me alone, I wish to die. There is no one to blame."

When the police visited the house they found on a table in the parlor two letters, one sealed and the other open. The sealed letter read, in part, as follows:

Left All to Roosevelt.
"Saturday night, Dec. 8.—To the corner or the first police officer who finds my body here: I beg of you to telephone to President Theodore Roosevelt. He will have my body cremated. I have written to him, have made my will, and all I have is his. He will have everything attended to just as I wish it to be right. He knows where to find everything."

"Please do not let my poor kittens be frightened or annoyed. President Roosevelt will take them as soon as he receives my letter mailed tonight to him. Please let them stay here until then."

At the hospital a charge of attempted suicide was made against Mrs. Grover. When asked as to who should be notified in the event of her death, she replied:

"There is only one person, and that is my relative, President Roosevelt."

When she was asked if she had been ordered out of the White House and was questioned at Oyster Bay by secret service agents, she replied: "No, that is not so. I never was arrested. I was not even there. As to my being in Washington at the time of the Roosevelt-Longworth wedding, that is also false."

At the present time, or will be in the immediate future, Mrs. Bradley's case will go direct to that tribunal. An indictment for attempt to murder probably will be returned against her in case Senator Brown lives, and an indictment charging her with murder in the first degree if the senator succumbs to his wounds.

If the grand jury is not to meet for some time Mrs. Bradley will probably be taken before a committing magistrate in Washington and allowed to plead on the charge against her.

Immediately upon hearing that Mrs. Bradley was breaking down, Sunday morning at 4 o'clock Bartch & Bagley called up Dr. Hoover of the Idaho insane asylum at Blackfoot and retained him as their insanity expert. Dr. Hoover was a resident of Washington for thirty years. The desperate act of Mrs. Bradley is the one topic of conversation on the streets, in the homes of friends of the two principals, and at the clubs about town, where the senator was well known.

Throughout Sunday The Herald was besieged with telephone queries as to the condition of the woman mad. While Senator Brown's life hangs in the balance, the local attorneys employed by Mrs. Bradley's friends are investigating the amount of property owned by him and are looking up the standing of the children of Mrs. Bradley and the senator with reference to their right to inherit the estate of the latter in the event of his death. Judge Bartch and Mr. Bagley refused to state how far they have carried this investigation.

H. C. Ayes, a nephew of Senator Brown's second wife, Clarence Brown, last night received a message from M. S. Gunn of Helena, who was associated with Senator Brown in the trial of the case for which he went to Washington, stating that while there is no immediate danger Senator Brown's condition is very critical.

There is some doubt as to the identity of the woman, who for a month past has occupied an apartment on Lexington avenue. The police believe her to be the "Mrs. Grover" who just prior to the Roosevelt-Longworth wedding was asked to leave the White House, and who later attempted to see the president at Oyster Bay.

A physician who was summoned was making a hasty examination when the woman recovered her senses and said: "Let me alone, I wish to die. There is no one to blame."

When the police visited the house they found on a table in the parlor two letters, one sealed and the other open. The sealed letter read, in part, as follows:

Left All to Roosevelt.
"Saturday night, Dec. 8.—To the corner or the first police officer who finds my body here: I beg of you to telephone to President Theodore Roosevelt. He will have my body cremated. I have written to him, have made my will, and all I have is his. He will have everything attended to just as I wish it to be right. He knows where to find everything."

"Please do not let my poor kittens be frightened or annoyed. President Roosevelt will take them as soon as he receives my letter mailed tonight to him. Please let them stay here until then."

At the hospital a charge of attempted suicide was made against Mrs. Grover. When asked as to who should be notified in the event of her death, she replied:

"There is only one person, and that is my relative, President Roosevelt."

ATTEMPTS TO END HER EXISTENCE

Demented Woman Takes Chloroform and Leaves Letter for Roosevelt.

New York, Dec. 9.—Lulu B. Graves, 55 years of age, and who describes herself as a magazine writer, was removed to a hospital tonight suffering from chloroform poisoning. Her condition was said to be critical.

There is some doubt as to the identity of the woman, who for a month past has occupied an apartment on Lexington avenue. The police believe her to be the "Mrs. Grover" who just prior to the Roosevelt-Longworth wedding was asked to leave the White House, and who later attempted to see the president at Oyster Bay.

A physician who was summoned was making a hasty examination when the woman recovered her senses and said: "Let me alone, I wish to die. There is no one to blame."

When the police visited the house they found on a table in the parlor two letters, one sealed and the other open. The sealed letter read, in part, as follows:

Left All to Roosevelt.
"Saturday night, Dec. 8.—To the corner or the first police officer who finds my body here: I beg of you to telephone to President Theodore Roosevelt. He will have my body cremated. I have written to him, have made my will, and all I have is his. He will have everything attended to just as I wish it to be right. He knows where to find everything."

"Please do not let my poor kittens be frightened or annoyed. President Roosevelt will take them as soon as he receives my letter mailed tonight to him. Please let them stay here until then."

At the hospital a charge of attempted suicide was made against Mrs. Grover. When asked as to who should be notified in the event of her death, she replied:

"There is only one person, and that is my relative, President Roosevelt."

When she was asked if she had been ordered out of the White House and was questioned at Oyster Bay by secret service agents, she replied: "No, that is not so. I never was arrested. I was not even there. As to my being in Washington at the time of the Roosevelt-Longworth wedding, that is also false."

At the present time, or will be in the immediate future, Mrs. Bradley's case will go direct to that tribunal. An indictment for attempt to murder probably will be returned against her in case Senator Brown lives, and an indictment charging her with murder in the first degree if the senator succumbs to his wounds.

If the grand jury is not to meet for some time Mrs. Bradley will probably be taken before a committing magistrate in Washington and allowed to plead on the charge against her.

Immediately upon hearing that Mrs. Bradley was breaking down, Sunday morning at 4 o'clock Bartch & Bagley called up Dr. Hoover of the Idaho insane asylum at Blackfoot and retained him as their insanity expert. Dr. Hoover was a resident of Washington for thirty years. The desperate act of Mrs. Bradley is the one topic of conversation on the streets, in the homes of friends of the two principals, and at the clubs about town, where the senator was well known.

Throughout Sunday The Herald was besieged with telephone queries as to the condition of the woman mad. While Senator Brown's life hangs in the balance, the local attorneys employed by Mrs. Bradley's friends are investigating the amount of property owned by him and are looking up the standing of the children of Mrs. Bradley and the senator with reference to their right to inherit the estate of the latter in the event of his death. Judge Bartch and Mr. Bagley refused to state how far they have carried this investigation.

H. C. Ayes, a nephew of Senator Brown's second wife, Clarence Brown, last night received a message from M. S. Gunn of Helena, who was associated with Senator Brown in the trial of the case for which he went to Washington, stating that while there is no immediate danger Senator Brown's condition is very critical.

There is some doubt as to the identity of the woman, who for a month past has occupied an apartment on Lexington avenue. The police believe her to be the "Mrs. Grover" who just prior to the Roosevelt-Longworth wedding was asked to leave the White House, and who later attempted to see the president at Oyster Bay.

A physician who was summoned was making a hasty examination when the woman recovered her senses and said: "Let me alone, I wish to die. There is no one to blame."

When the police visited the house they found on a table in the parlor two letters, one sealed and the other open. The sealed letter read, in part, as follows:

Left All to Roosevelt.
"Saturday night, Dec. 8.—To the corner or the first police officer who finds my body here: I beg of you to telephone to President Theodore Roosevelt. He will have my body cremated. I have written to him, have made my will, and all I have is his. He will have everything attended to just as I wish it to be right. He knows where to find everything."

"Please do not let my poor kittens be frightened or annoyed. President Roosevelt will take them as soon as he receives my letter mailed tonight to him. Please let them stay here until then."

At the hospital a charge of attempted suicide was made against Mrs. Grover. When asked as to who should be notified in the event of her death, she replied:

"There is only one person, and that is my relative, President Roosevelt."

When she was asked if she had been ordered out of the White House and was questioned at Oyster Bay by secret service agents, she replied: "No, that is not so. I never was arrested. I was not even there. As to my being in Washington at the time of the Roosevelt-Longworth wedding, that is also false."

At the present time, or will be in the immediate future, Mrs. Bradley's case will go direct to that tribunal. An indictment for attempt to murder probably will be returned against her in case Senator Brown lives, and an indictment charging her with murder in the first degree if the senator succumbs to his wounds.

If the grand jury is not to meet for some time Mrs. Bradley will probably be taken before a committing magistrate in Washington and allowed to plead on the charge against her.

Immediately upon hearing that Mrs. Bradley was breaking down, Sunday morning at 4 o'clock Bartch & Bagley called up Dr. Hoover of the Idaho insane asylum at Blackfoot and retained him as their insanity expert. Dr. Hoover was a resident of Washington for thirty years. The desperate act of Mrs. Bradley is the one topic of conversation on the streets, in the homes of friends of the two principals, and at the clubs about town, where the senator was well known.

Throughout Sunday The Herald was besieged with telephone queries as to the condition of the woman mad. While Senator Brown's life hangs in the balance, the local attorneys employed by Mrs. Bradley's friends are investigating the amount of property owned by him and are looking up the standing of the children of Mrs. Bradley and the senator with reference to their right to inherit the estate of the latter in the event of his death. Judge Bartch and Mr. Bagley refused to state how far they have carried this investigation.

H. C. Ayes, a nephew of Senator Brown's second wife, Clarence Brown, last night received a message from M. S. Gunn of Helena, who was associated with Senator Brown in the trial of the case for which he went to Washington, stating that while there is no immediate danger Senator Brown's condition is very critical.

There is some doubt as to the identity of the woman, who for a month past has occupied an apartment on Lexington avenue. The police believe her to be the "Mrs. Grover" who just prior to the Roosevelt-Longworth wedding was asked to leave the White House, and who later attempted to see the president at Oyster Bay.

A physician who was summoned was making a hasty examination when the woman recovered her senses and said: "Let me alone, I wish to die. There is no one to blame."

We Guarantee HEWLETT'S

Three Crown Baking Powder, Flavoring Extracts, Spices, Coffees and Teas, to comply with every requirement of the national and state pure food laws—in fact, they are much better than the law requires. Buy Hewlett's, and you've got the best and the purest.

OGDEN NEWS

Office, 2484 Washington Ave.

Ogden, Monday, Dec. 10.

WILL NO LONGER BACK IN AND OUT

Trains Over the Short Line to Use Sand Ridge Cut-Off at Ogden.

With train No. 7, northbound on the Oregon Short Line today, the new Sand Ridge cut-off, running from the main Union Pacific line at Thirtieth street to a point near Syracuse Junction, will be opened for regular travel, and all trains between Ogden and Salt Lake over the Short Line will be operated over that route hereafter.

This piece of track, which is but a few miles in length, is expected to work wonders in the way of increasing the railroad facilities at this point. Trains which heretofore had to back in and out of the union depot will now head direct into the station. Within a short time the "wy" and the present main line passenger track, crossing the local track, will be moved. This will make way for the increased trackage proposed for the yards at this point.

At the present time there are really two yards, or the one yard is divided into two parts by the Short Line passenger tracks. These are known as the east and west yards. In switching trains from one to the other many a pathetic encounter owing to the connections being blocked by passenger trains. With the elimination of this track and the two yards built into one, the work will be simplified as well as minimized. The matter of increasing the trackage has been under way for some time and much gravel has been hauled to fill in where necessary. When completed this will be one of the largest yards on the Harriman system.

The Sand Ridge cut-off, which opens today, was designed, not alone for the relief it would bring to the freight yards, but also to do away with the necessity of using helper engines to assist freight trains, southbound over the grade to Syracuse Junction. The grade on the new line has been reduced so that the freight engines will be able to pull their trains out without assistance.

Almost a year was consumed in building this piece of track. At first it was thought that it would require but a few months to complete the work, but unlooked-for difficulties prevented this. Before the cut just west of the Weber river bridge was well under way, a strong stream of water was unearthed. This rushed out with such force that it at once became a factor in completing the line. Running as it did almost the entire length of the cut, it soon wore through the soft sand, making deep gullies. Eventually this was taken care of and the work finished. About a month ago it was turned over to the contractors, and they have been working on it ever since. The opening of the line for the regular business of the road was delayed until the present time.

AGED NEBRASKAN MISSING.

M. Rooney Being Sought by Ogden Police Department.

M. Rooney, of the Rooney-Clark Roofing company of Hastings, Neb., arrived in Ogden from Salt Lake several days ago, and then disappeared mysteriously. Mr. Rooney was somewhat aged and when he left the train in Salt Lake he left two grips on the train, which were brought to Ogden. When Mr. Rooney arrived here he identified the grips and after placing his overcoat with them in the depot master's office he was taken to a hotel, where he remained for the night. He was expected to return to the hotel the following night, but failed to show up. It appears that the old man had lost his ticket to Seattle, and he was bound, and it was noticed that he had considerable paper money on his person when he was taken to the hotel. He has not called at the depot since, and the police of the place, with hopes of solving the mystery as to Rooney's whereabouts.

Car for Conductors.

The Pullman company has supplied a long felt want at the Ogden station by supplying a Pullman car for the use of their conductors who lay over at this point. The car is a regular Pullman, and as twelve hours before they get out, instead of being forced to remain around the station they can avoid the inconveniences of the use of the car, which is fitted up with drawing room and sleeping apartments.

Devil's Slide It Is.

Ever since it was decided to erect the Union Pacific Cement company plant thirty miles east of Ogden, efforts were made by the cement people to obtain a station called "Portland." The railroad people seem to have objected to this move and finally won out in maintaining the name of Devil's Slide. The cement people announce that the place will no longer be called Portland, but will go by the name that the railroad company insisted upon.

Pattison Funeral.

The funeral of Henry Pattison was held at the Richey funeral chapel at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The services were brief but impressive. Rev. Alfred Brown, rector of the Church of the Good Shepherd, delivered the funeral sermon and members of the church choir furnished the music. There was a large attendance and many floral offerings. Burial was in the Mountain View cemetery.

Sunday School Work.

The regular monthly meeting of the Sunday schools of the Weber stake was held yesterday afternoon. The attendance from all parts of the country was large and much interest was manifested. The chorister and devotional exercises, department on "The Overcoming of our Sins in Sunday School Work." The other departments discussed the lessons for the coming month's work.

ESTABLISHED 1864

Therbach Bros.

ONE PRICE TO ALL NEVER UNDER SOLD

SPECIAL FOR TODAY

GERMAN BLANKET ROBE FLANNELS

Suitable for Bath Robes, Smoking Jackets, Blankets, etc., in the most novel designs and colorings, with and without borders. Regular price, and scarce, at 50c. SPECIAL FOR TODAY at a yard 38¢

SPECIAL FOR TODAY

$1.75 and $1.85 White Silk Embroidered Skirting Flannel at $1.19 yd.

Eight pieces in this lot—all beautiful designs, made by expert Swiss artists; are yard wide. Cream, White fine wool flannel and embroidered with best grade pure silk. First regular price $1.75 and $1.85 a yard. SPECIAL FOR TODAY, a yard $1.19

SPECIAL FOR TODAY

$6, $6.50 AND $7.50 CURTAINS AT $3.98

Six of the most up-to-date styles, made not many pairs in each lot. White Irish Point Curtains, two-colored White Brussels Net and Arabian double corded Cable Net Curtains, all 3 1/2-yard lengths, and worth $6.00, $6.50 and $7.50; to be sold, special for today at a pair $3.98

Our Special For Today

$12.50 Ladies' Coats, $8.75

Come in pretty gray mixture, 52 inches long, collarless style, trimmed with black velvet ribbon and fancy metal buttons, all sizes; coats worth $12.50 on sale today at $8.75

Are You In Need of Credit?

Do you care to dress well? If so, our new system will enable you to do so. It's very easy. You pay us a small deposit at the time you make your purchase, then take the goods along and wear them while you are paying for them. Then pay the balance at

No Questions Asked. $1 a Week No References or Security.

We have a very large assortment of new Spring Goods, which includes CLOTHING FOR MEN, WOMEN & CHILDREN. Each piece of goods in the city. If you are a close buyer it will pay you to call. No trouble to show goods.

Mercantile Installment Co. 74 W. 2nd So.

For Absolute Security

Insure With

Smedley-Wakeling Insurance Agency

204 Atlas Bldg. Salt Lake City.

Ogden Briefs.
A detachment of United States government troops on their way from the Columbus barracks to San Francisco and Monterey, Cal., arrived over the Rio Grande Western yesterday afternoon, and continued west over the Southern Pacific.

Mrs. E. C. Black, residing at the Peery annex, fell at her home yesterday afternoon and sustained a double fracture of one of her limbs.

Miss Vernie Hallstrom, of Salt Lake, visited with her mother in Ogden yesterday.

A baby boy has been born to Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Cragan, of 733 Twenty-sixth street. The Cragans have been married for twelve years, and this is their first child.

The funeral of Gertrude Vanderveen was held from the residence, 132 Twenty-fourth street, at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Bishop E. T. Woolley presided at the services. Music was furnished by the ward choir and a duet was being not by the Misses Osborn. The speakers were L. Sander, W. J. Deby and Bishop Woolley. Burial was in the City cemetery.

No Gift Is More Acceptable.
More serviceable, more expressive of being personally selected and well chosen than Mehely's furs. It bears a graceful compliment above that attaching to a fur garment purchased in the ordinary way—the stamp of being not only a genuine fur but a representative of its class. Mehely, the Furrier, Knutsford.

ARGUMENT ON DEMURRERS.
Chicago, Dec. 9.—An attack on the Standard Oil company by the United States court tomorrow, when demurrers to the true bills returned by the federal jury last August will be argued.

Give "him" a Walk-Over Shoe certificate for Christmas. See our windows, 177 Main street.

LOSS $225,000.
Macon, Ga., Dec. 9.—Fire tonight destroyed the large retail dry goods establishment of Burden, Smith & Co. Loss $225,000.

THEATRE TO THE

3 Nights and Wed. Matinee, Starting TONIGHT

Wilson Barrett's Great Religious Play,

THE SIGN OF THE CROSS

Endorsed by press and pulpit of two hemispheres.

Under direction of R. G. Craerin.

Popular prices, 25c to $1.00. Matinee, 25c and 50c.

Coppeum

MODERN VAUDEVILLE

Vasco, "The Mad Musician."
2—Wilson Bros.—2
Mile. Alexandra and Moss, Bertie Austin Walsh. Rates Bros. Pero & Wilson. Kinodrome.

Every evening (except Sunday), 7:30, 8:00, 8:30. Box seats, $1.00. Matinee daily except Sunday and Monday, 50c, 25c, 10c. Box seats, 75c.

Grand Theatre

TONIGHT
Matinee Wednesday, 3 P. M., Daniel Sully's Great Pastoral Play,

The PARISH PRIEST

Coming Thursday, Dec. 13, THE LITTLE HOMESTEAD.

Lyric Theatre

Salt Lake's Only Family Theatre.

TONIGHT
The Lyric Stock Company in

THE STOWAWAY

A melodrama in five acts.

Souvenir Matinee Wednesday, Candy Matinee Saturday, Prices—Evenings, 10c, 20c, 50c, 25c. Prices—Matinees, 10c, 20c.

The University of Utah announces